WHO IS FIONZ

FIONZ is an internationally recognized, family owned, fine gem and jewelry brand and couture jewelry collection. Owned by the world famous Nadeem family, lapidary artisans renowned for their work in all the gold colors, FIONZ is distributed throughout the United States and worldwide. “We, as a family, are very proud that we study each and every individual gemstone, and then we set about creating a design that will complement that gemstone.”

For over two generations the Nadeem Family has worked with over 25 different mines of Afghanistan and Pakistan selecting and cutting the stones, which are left untreated and then designed into several collections of handmade original gemstone designs each year. FIONZ takes the term handmade very seriously, honoring the tradition of legendary European designers. “When you examine a piece of our one of a kind jewelry, you can easily see that it is made by hand – by the hand of a true artist. We spend many hours and days, and sometimes even weeks on each original creation.”

The Nadeem family prides itself on the fact that they never use a wax model to create Fionz Fine Jewelry, they leave all gemstones natural and untreated, and they insist upon giving this guarantee in writing.

HISTORY AND HERITAGE

The Nadeem family is renowned for working only with the finest, highest quality gemstones, and designing jewelry around the beauty of the stone. They have built the notoriety of their exquisite brand by creating museum quality, original, all handmade jewelry pieces using only non-treated colored stones. And now a second generation of the Nadeem family is following in their father’s footsteps with the same passion and dedication that has earned the Nadeem family their impeccable reputation as a leader in the industry.

“The inner beauty of the stone must speak to you,” explains world renowned Nadeem, “before you can design the piece of jewelry the gem will rest in. It is the only way to know, appreciate, and love the uniqueness of the original gemstone.” The Nadeem Family is committed to locating large, colored gemstones with intense fire, incredible color and unusual shapes and then executing quality of cut.

Nadeem is both delighted and proud that his sons Tariq, Salman, as well as his three daughters, are involved in cutting and manufacturing operation, and are also actively designing jewelry with a design team in both USA and Italy. The Nadeem family approves all designs before any stones are ever set.

In closing, the family notes, “We are more than purveyors of fine custom-designed jewelry. We are purveyors of beauty, rarity, and the historical mystique of the timelessness of gemstones.”
